the week

Class Two have made a great start back to school after the lovely half term break. They are very excited to find out that we will be working hard over the next few weeks on a production of "Goldilocks on Trial". We have begun to explore the story of Goldilocks in our English work, creating our own alternative endings to the well-known tale, and started to learn some of the songs that will be included within our production. Watch out for more details soon about how we hope to share this with you, in line with COVID guidelines.

Our new topic is "Vikings". We will learn all about the Viking arrival into Britain and important events within this period of history. We will explore shield designs and hope to do some baking inspired by Viking recipes. This final half term promises to be one filled with fun and excitement!
